Grand Knight Message

As summer winds down I remember the things that were fun and look forward to the great things yet to come. Camping, golfing, cub scout camp, soccer, t-ball, baseball, football, Rochester Fest, the pancake breakfast and yes, building school cabinets. I might have missed a few, but my point is that fond memories are made in a variety of areas: family, friends, church, school and the Knights. We are a family, we are friends and we are brother Knights. As you involve yourself and your family in the different Knight's activities you begin to see the organizational part of the Knights fade into the background. Knight's functions transform into church functions, school functions, friendly get-togethers and just plain fun. These functions don't happen via magic, a subset of the overall membership organizes these events for you and your family to enjoy. Become a part of that subset. We all are busy men, but we make time for things that are important. Think of activities that you would want to do and bring it to a meeting, the next meeting. Get on a committee in an area of your interest and work on existing projects. The following are the committee chairman for your council:

Council - Mike Madden, 281-3177

Church - Greg Eaton, 280-6449

Youth - Duane Gallenberg, 281-1656

Family - Pat McCarthy, 281-0747

Community - Steve Wasz, 280-8970

Call them and get involved today. While you are at it thank them for taking the time to lead these committees.

In God's Love,

Tom Sand

Membership Drawing Winner

Mike Madden

The July membership drawing winner was Mike Madden. Mike is the Council Activities Director and spends much time and effort for the council in this role but participates in many other steering committees. His most notable endeavor the past couple of winters has been the Knights Parish Dinner Dance. Mike plays the lead role in planning and providing the live band entertainment! Mike is the boss at Fazoli's Italian restaurant and his wife Sue is a State Farm insurance agent. The Maddens have 2 children, Matthew and Erin, at Holy Spirit school.
